GC Court Obtains Circuit Status

Judges Schuman, Lewis, Other Court Officials Take Oaths Of Office

The city court of Granite City obtained the status of a circuit court under the new judicial system during formal ceremonies conducted here Thursday afternoon.

Court facilities in the Granite City city hall were presented by Mayor Davis in behalf of residents of the city for use by the Third Judicial Circuit. A non-jury session is being conducted in the courtroom today with Judge Schuman scheduled to preside.

The court was accepted by Judge James O. Monroe of Collinsville, who also administered oaths of office to court personnel.

Repeating their oaths, taken originally Thursday morning in Edwardsville, were Associate Judges Fred P. Schuman, former Granite City judge, and Austin Lewis of Madison, former county probate judge.

Judge Monroe noted that it took 33 years to develop status to convert city courts into the "long overdue status" of circuit courts.

"Status, They Deserve" "In 1931, when I was in the eighth grade, my father (State Sen. James O. Monroe Jr.) introduced in his first session in the state senate a bill to make city courts branches of circuit courts to give them the status they deserve."

"Now, 33 years later, they have that status, and the city courts are equal to any in the state of Illinois. They are an integral part of this circuit court system."

Monroe also promised that "as long as we can man this court, it will be used to the experience shows it is needed."

Cites Schuman, Lewis It was complimentary to the service and cooperation of Judge Schuman and Lewis during the formative months in the change from the old to the new judicial system. He said that Judge Lewis, Schuman, former County Judge Michael Kinney and former Alton City Judge J. H. Streeter began assuming their roles as associate circuit judges four months ago.

He cited Judge Lewis as being especially helpful in his knowledge of criminal law and Judge Schuman for his knowledge of the law on motions, particularly in the field of condemnation cases. He said Judge Schuman raised critical points relating especially to condemnation cases brought by Southwestern Illinois University.

Judge Schuman opened the court, but because he continues to have difficulty with his voice (Continued on Page 7, Col. 3)

Motel Owners Protest Added County License

A protest over the additional business license fee for motels, which was approved by the Madison county board of supervisors last month, was voiced Friday night during a meeting of 15 members of the local area River Bluffs Motel Association.

William Thoeke, president of the association and operator of the Chain of Rocks Motel, Rural Route One, said the 15 owners present for the meeting, held at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn, approved a resolution to be sent to the county board, that they will not pay the added fee until they are given a hearing before the board.

"This was done without any advance announcement, and the motel business license was the only one increased," Thoeke said, adding that many of the association members termed the board's action as "discriminatory."

The annual license fee had been $25, the same as most other county business licenses, and the county board added a $3 fee for each motel room, with the total license fee not to amount to more than $300 a year, he explained.

"We plan to appear before the board at its next meeting and a voice our protests," Thoeke said. "We didn't know anything about this until we read it in the Press-Record."

Building In GC For '63 Shows Increase

Commercial-Industrial Construction Leads Way To $4,554,415 Total

New construction in Granite City during 1963 took an upturn for the first time in four years as values indicated on building permits total $4,554,415.

The total is $322,215 greater than the 1962 figure of $4,232,200, which itself was a heavy dip from the 1961 mark of $5,919,000.

Earl Bloomquist, building inspector, and City Clerk A. L. Stevens issued a total of 638 building permits, in addition to 26 permits to restructure areas of 233,231 sq. ft. of building with total values set at $2,784,281.

Included are several projects at Granite City State Co., including one for $403,982; two basic construction permits at the Neville Co. for $184,232; the new new Granite City post office at $184,232; and a building under way to the local plant of General Steel Industries from $184,232.

In past years, council members have questioned Johnston's fees, and also have stressed the need for fulltime professional engineering service for the city. Johnston and his staff were criticized several years ago when they recommended expenditures totaling nearly $250,000 to repair the Terrace lane sanitary sewer, and later the line was replaced at a total cost of less than $100,000.

Many items carried over from the Dec. 16 meeting of Granite City council members are expected to be reviewed at this evening's 8 o'clock session of the aldermen.

Only council members transacted only "house" business at the previous Christmas session of Dec. 23, when an ordinance calling for a $175,000 revenue bond issue to build a sewage treatment plant was approved.

It is unlikely any further steps will be taken tonight, as data is being gathered for making application for federal funds for a rate ordinance to meet monthly charges. The city is expected to receive confirmation from military authorities on location of the treatment plant at the city's sewer pumping station.

Major Backing For Ebersoldt As Levee Candidate

The political pot began to boil a little faster Thursday night with the decision by the Venice city political organization to endorse a candidate for the April 14 East Side Levee & Sanitary District primary election. Representative of the support was William M. "Mike" Ebersoldt, a railroad employee and veteran city clerk.

The motion was made the hard way—a long-distance telephone call. It was submitted at the monthly gathering of officials and employees by Mayor John E. Lee, who was in New York City seeking to arrange part of the financing for a Broadway traffic underpass.

The second to the motion, and a favorable vote, were by acclamation. It was noted that the filing period is Jan. 20-27, and that Quincy Adams will vote on the two Quincy Adams (Madison county) levee board positions created by a new state law. St. Clair county will elect three members of its usual five trustees, and will not vote on local candidates.

Ebersoldt, who resides at 404 Third street, will seek a Democratic nomination. If he is elected, he is believed likely that Ebersoldt will emerge as the major Madison-venice area Democratic candidate, the other being left open for some resident of the Granite City-Nameoia area.

Republicans also will nominate levee candidates but have not been as successful as the Democrats in the November general election.

During Thursday's meeting, held in the McKinley Bridge of 433 1/2 Third street, Ebersoldt supported five Democratic precinct committee candidates.

Walter T. Simmons, 1028 Third street, Venice Township, Precinct One; Jay D. Maurer, 633 Washington avenue, Precinct Two; C. Butler, 119 S. 10th street, Three; Andrew Watts, 521 Mercedia street, Four; and Earl Brown, 1023 B Street, Precinct 11. Simmons is Madison county Democratic chairman.

Permits were issued for 63 new homes listing a total value of $657,100. The biggest month for home construction was October when 14 permits were issued listing values of $300,500.

Session Today To Simplify Ill. House Vote

Harris, Others Must Run At Large; May Set Up Convention System

Legislators from this area and the remainder of Illinois are meeting at 4 p.m. today at Springfield to try to bring some order out of the chaos following Saturday's state supreme court ruling that all House members must run at-large rather than from their districts.

The special session called by Gov. Kerner is expected to consider having House candidates nominated by a convention system, bypassing the April 14 primary election. Purpose would be to limit as much as possible the list of names that voters must scan in electing 177 representatives next November.

Other possible steps to be taken to ease a nearly impossible election of voters on vote day, including a separate paper ballot for House candidates in November, eliminating use of voting machines; elimination of cumulative voting, in which electors may vote for more than one candidate; and totaling fractions of 177, by extending the normal 6 a.m.-p.m. voting hours.

The effect of three decisions reached by the high state court at Normal, Ill., Saturday is that Representatives Lloyd "Curly" Harris (D) of Granite City, Ralph T. Smith (R) of Alton and Leland J. Kennedy (D) of Alton must seek to remain in office through statewide election.

Retain Senate Districts However, the 23 Illinois Senate races scheduled for 1964 will be held in the permanent Senate districts, overruling an opinion of the Supreme Court, William Clark (D) that senators also would have to run on an at-large basis.

At Springfield today, few officials were willing to hazard guesses as to how long the special session may last, or how successful it will be in easing the confusion caused by the ruling. If the primary election is to be altered in regard to House candidates, it is believed that the action should take place before the scheduled Jan. 20-27 filing period.

While the governor had announced previously that the legislators would begin meeting tonight, the session was delayed until after the filing period.

He added three other proposals:

Enable schools that closed Monday, Nov. 23, the official day of mourning for the late President John F. Kennedy, to use a day off.

Close Hensley, 40, Closes On Hunting Trip

Cloyce Hensley, 40, Rural Route One, died of a heart attack Saturday night while on a hunting trip near Vandalia.

It was reported by other hunters with him that he complained that he was hot after the men had stopped for a rest period. He started gasping for breath and died shortly thereafter.

Mr. Hensley had been a resident of Granite City for 10 years, moving here from Augusta, Ark., where he was born.

He had been the planter operator for seven years at the Jenkins-Wright Co. and was president of the county and Carpenter's Union here.

He is survived by his wife, Pauline, seven children, Mrs. Lester (Betty) Ellison, Granite City; Mrs. Harvey (Barbara) Hensley, Edwardsville; Jerry Hensley, in the Army stationed at Fort Devens, Mass.; and Helen, a nurse at the Veterans Hospital at Vandalia, Ark.

He was buried at Vandalia, Ark., for the funeral at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Church of Christ.

Stove Explosion Halts Use Of Bend Rd. Church

The Bend Road Baptist Church was closed Saturday by the explosion of an oil stove. Walls and pews of the church were covered with soot, and the installation was burned off electricity wiring. It was decided not to hold services there yesterday.

Pontoon Village Studying Light, Gas Franchises

Pontoon Beach village trustees are considering a swap arrangement with Illinois Power Co. to get at least 10 free street lights instead of five in exchange for proposed 30-year gas and electric franchises.

The two franchises, presented to the board Friday night by the Illinois Power service area manager, Carl Mathias, were placed on first reading, and final action is to be taken either at the next regular session, Jan. 23, or an earlier special meeting.

Village President Thomas Stalcoff said that if the ordinance committee, headed by Trustee Lawrence Kozar, consented to the swap before Jan. 23, a special board meeting may be called.

On another business, the board approved the appointments of two non-salaried deputy marshals to aid Village Marshal Douglas Harvey, who also serves without pay. The board also placed on first reading an ordinance to provide drayage and trucking firms in the village. Stalcoff said there is one such firm in the village.

Named deputy marshals were Robert Mikolajczuk, 3820 Lake drive, and Robert Thompson, 3805 B street.

The annual license fee for a drayage firm will be $25, and if the firm has more than one vehicle, an added charge of $5 will be collected for each additional vehicle.

The two franchises would grant Illinois Power Co. authority to construct, operate and maintain electric and gas systems in the village for 50 years.

The company, which presently supplies both services in the village, has similar franchises with other local communities.

2 Arrests During Long Wait For Train To Pass

A Washburn freight train blocked the Broadway railroad crossing in Venice for a half-hour at 11:15 a.m. Thursday, when two men driving in the long delay, traffic backed up on the street and then attempted to cut in front of other cars near the crossing gate, its two occupants were arrested.

Police said the same train blocked the Kerr street crossing for more than an hour Thursday evening.

GC Harbor Expansion Dedication Jan. 15

A date of Wednesday, Jan. 15 has been chosen for ceremonies dedicating newly-expanded public river terminal facilities of the Bi-State Development Agency on the Chain of Rocks harbor. It was learned today.

Details of the program are being completed. A $356,000 construction project completed in late 1963 nearly doubled the dock space. Additional barge mooring space was provided, and a bulk-handling conveyor system was installed.

Orthodox Observance Of Christmas Begins Today

Observance of Christmas by the Orthodox Christians of the Quad-Cities begins today with the reading of the Royal Hours. It was announced by Rev. Fr. Theodosius Lazor of the Nativity of Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Catholic Church, 416 Ewing avenue, Madison.

"The Orthodox Christians," he said, "celebrate Christ's birth on Dec. 25 according to the Julian Calendar, which falls on Jan. 7 on the civil calendar."

The occasion is marked with a feast that is celebrated on the feast itself, the second day for the feast of the Virgin Mary and the third day for devotion to St. Stephen the Archdeacon, the first Martyr, Fr. Theodosius explained.

"The Eve of Christmas is held as a strict fast day. In the evening, a 12-course Lenten meal is served to the family. Usually a single candle is placed in the center of the table, representing Christ, the Light of the World."

First Star Marks Beginning
A few strands of straw are placed in the center to remind us of the humble birth of the Christ Child. The Holy Night supper is usually begun when the first star appears in the sky.

Fr. Theodosius said the schedule for the Holy Days will be the reading today of the Royal Hours, followed by Vespers and the Liturgy of St. Basil the Great with the Great Compline starting at 7 p.m. This service begins with the singing of "Emmanuel—God is With Us." The choir begins to sing carols and visits the parishioners. This will be continued Tuesday immediately after the Holy Liturgy at 9:30 a.m.

On the second day of Christmas, the pastor and parishioners will visit the Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox Church, where the Divine Liturgy will be celebrated.

On the third day of Christmas the pastor and parishioners of Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox Church will visit the Nativity of Virgin Mary Church.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital Adopts "One-Check Payroll" System

Processing to be handled by Granite City Trust and Savings Bank

SISTER MARY FRANCES, Hospital Accountant, Shirley Motes and Vera Dameron of the Hospital's payroll department check final requirements of new payroll system. Taking notes are Ernest Karandjeff, Donald Hayes and Gordon Hoener of Granite City Trust.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital announced today that they have adopted a system of payroll processing called "One-Check Payroll." The system derives its name from the concept of issuing one total payroll check to the bank, Granite City Trust. The bank, in turn, handles all of the detail work on the payroll and issues the individual checks to the Hospital's employees. In addition, the bank processes the quarterly and year-end statements and prepares the W-2 forms.

Sister Mary Frances, Hospital Accountant, said the new system will not only speed up their payroll processing but will also achieve a considerable savings in payroll preparation costs. She commented further that most of the problems involved in preparing the Hospital payroll will be eliminated through the new system. Plus, it will free key personnel in payroll for duties of greater responsibility.

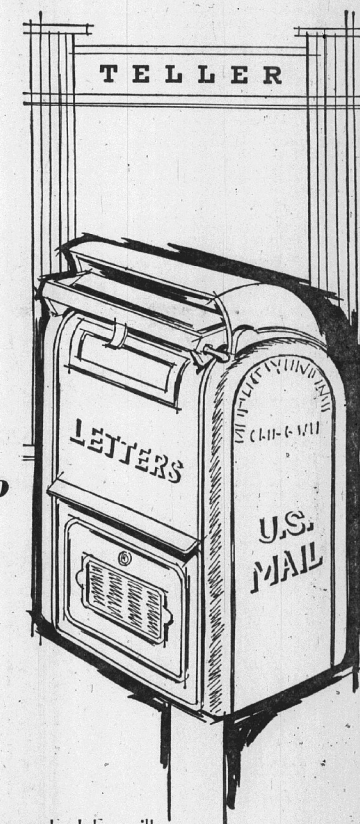

Trust Bank Originator of Payroll System
The "One-Check Payroll" system was devised by Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, Ernest Karandjeff, President of the bank, commented, "The idea of 'One-Check Payroll' has been used successfully in a number of industrial, business and institutional customers in the Quad-Cities. We introduced our payroll system in the Quad-Cities over a year ago. Our system is the result of considerable research and examination of just about every conceivable type of 'One-Check Payroll' system. We adapt to every type of payroll situation... straight, salary, hourly wage, and incentive pay. We're we're always open...

THIS I BELIEVE

Jesus said: "Call No Man Your Father Upon the Earth, for One Is Your Father, Which Is In Heaven." Matthew 23:9. This does not relate to one's actual father or parent, because after this statement by Jesus, the New Testament writers referred often to earthly real fathers after the flesh. (Acts 16:1, 3, 4; 28:8; Ephesians 6:2 etc. Colossians 3:21). Now a minister does exhort his flock as a father would his children (1 Thessalonians 2:11). Even the minister who spiritually begot us by the Gospel is by analogy something like a father (1 Corinthians 4:15). However, as Jesus addressed His disciples and the multitude He said: Be Not Ye called Rabbi, For One Is Your Master, even Christ, And All Ye Are Brethren. And Call No Man Your Father Upon the Earth, etc." Matthew 23:7, 12. Not once in the New Testament after Jesus prohibited calling anyone on earth Father, was any Apostle or minister, or Christian, called Father, but were called brother or brethren as Jesus commanded. Paul the Apostle was called Brother (Act 9:17; 21:29; 22:13; II Peter 3:15) but He nor the Apostle Peter were ever referred to or deferred to as Father.

Edwardsville Here Tomorrow Night

Same Old Wrestling Story: Waukegan Tops Granite City

Granite City still has a perfect record against Waukegan in high school wrestling. Unfortunately, it's on the negative side — eight losses in eight matches.

The latest setback was here Friday night as the visiting Bulldogs took a 30-13 decision. The meeting with the Northern Illinois team has been an annual event since 1957.

Now, with a 7-1 record in dual meets this season, the Warriors turn their attention to the Southwestern Conference competition. They are home to the Edwardsville Tigers at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Granite City has won six straight conference championships.

ships and Edwardsville figures to be this season's top challenger. The Warriors won four of seven bouts from the Tigers in the holiday tournament here, so the outcome will probably hinge on the five untested battles.

Waukegan, the defending state champion, almost completely dominated Friday night's match after the 120-pound bout was completed.

Decisions by Paul Lapinski (103 pounds) and Dan King (120) kept the Warriors even after the first four bouts. From there, however, only a draw by Gary Forshee at 180 pounds and a pin by heavyweight John Evenden kept the locals from being shut out the rest of the way.

In one of the closer bouts, the Warriors' Ernie Kern, who towers 6-6, Vickers edged Kern 5-35. In the 165-pound division, there was no junior varsity competition. The results:

Jim Warren Hits 24 As Locals Overcome Oilers' Early Lead

Joined by an early scoring outburst by Wood River's Oilers, the Granite City Warriors recovered in stunning fashion Saturday night to defeat the host school 71-54.

Boosted by senior Jim Warren's finest offensive effort of the season, Coach Andy Sullivan's Warriors caught fire late in the second quarter and in the second half quickly overcame a 37-32 halftime lead held by the Oilers.

Now standing 6-3 on the season, the Warriors open play at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the annual Dupo Invitational Tournament against the Roxana Shells (1-7).

Seven other teams are entered in the double-elimination tournament, which runs through Saturday night. In the second game Wednesday night, Belleville Township meets O'Fallon and Jerseyville tangles with Dupo, Belleville and Granite City are the favored teams.

Warren Consistent
Warren, a sometimes starter who hit his previous peak with 15 points against Springfield in the Warriors' final game at the Pontiac Holiday Tournament, totaled 24 points.

On Thursday night, Belleville Township meets O'Fallon and Jerseyville tangles with Dupo, Belleville and Granite City are the favored teams.

Backed into the scoring department was team leader Larry Lilley with 19 markers. They were the only two Warriors in double figures.

Topping Coach Bob Horton's Oilers was spunky guard Terry Brown. The 5-11 junior scored 19 points, but 14 of those were in the Oilers' big first half.

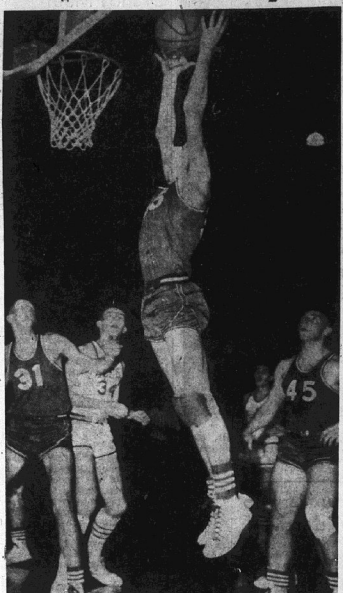

Oilers Zip Away
"We started slowly again," Sullivan said, "We didn't start playing ball until a few minutes before the half."

Wood River, fresh from a 49-46 surprise victory over East St. Louis Friday night, wished to to an 18-12 lead in the first period. The lead closed to only five points at halftime and, before the Oilers could get moving in the second half, Granite City held a 42-39 edge.

The Warriors are still second in the Southwestern Conference race with a 4-1 record. Under Coach Sullivan's lead, with Belleville snapping at the Warriors' heels.

Sullivan sent in his reserves late in the game as his team outscored the Oilers 19-6 in the fourth quarter.

Madison Wins 85-54

Hayes Fills Bill As 'Wright' Sub

Hayes Wright was cast in the unfamiliar role of a substitute Friday night for the Madison high school basketball team but he rated an Oscar for his performance.

The veteran trouper, a 5-10 junior, came off the bench in the second quarter against Highland's Bulldogs to pump in six field goals without a miss and a spark the host Trojans to an 85-54 Midwestern Conference triumph.

"I believe that's the first game Hayes hasn't started in two seasons," said Coach Earl McCannan. "But he sure carried us in that second quarter."

Wright also made a free throw in that period for 13 of the Trojans' 19 points. He ran his streak to eight field goals before missing two shots in the fourth quarter.

He finished with 19 points in just over two quarters of total playing time.

Roll, Summers High
Starters Cecil Bell and John Summers, however, shaded Wright for individual scoring honors with 22 and 20 points respectively. Bell's big quarter was the third, when he scored Madison's fourth field goal in the game by outscoring the visitors 29-16.

Summers pitched in eight markers in that period, giving Highland, expected to give Madison a much tougher battle, was slowed by the absence of high-scoring Bob Meyer, who suffered some broken ribs in a holiday sledding accident.

The other top scoring threats, Vern Pitt and John Spengler, were held to four and eight points in the first half as Madison opened ahead 39-28. Diff finally broke loose in the second.

A passenger in Ferguson's car, Jerry Foster, 24, also of Madison, was among those injured. Ferguson reportedly was enroute to Chicago to investigate an off-season job at a boys' camp.

Ferguson was injured in a late October game and missed the rest of the Lions' season.

The Trojans are now 7-3 overall and 3-0 in the conference. Highland (5-2) sank to 1-1 in conference play and Cahokia (7-3) took its first Midwestern game Friday night over Roxana, 85-64.

Madison meets its fourth league foe this Friday night when Civic Memorial of Bethalto calls at the Trojans' gym. Madison is at Cahokia Jan. 24.

MORE ABOUT GC Court Obtains

he turned the proceedings over to Judge Lewis.

History Of Courts

Judge Lewis reviewed the history of the city court, which he said was originated in 1910 with Judge James M. Bundy as the first city judge.

His successors were Maurice R. Sullivan, R. W. Griffith, Wesley Luaders and Schuman.

He also noted that the first clerk of the city court was Charles Ritchie, who was succeeded by John Mellon, Alvah Homan and Mrs. Helen Homan.

In presenting the use of the city court and magistrate facilities, Mayor Davis said they were afraid we were going to lose our court. But we will do everything in the world to cooperate with you and we will do everything we can to help you conduct your court.

Judge Monroe administered the oaths of office to Mrs. Homan as one of four associate circuit clerks, Miss Marilyn Odell, Mrs. Patsy Peebles and Mrs. Aileen Smith as deputy clerks to serve locally.

Police Staff Oaths

Twenty-two police officers in the Quad-Cities were designated as deputy clerks to handle oaths on traffic cases and other preliminary court work at a salary of $1 a year, and those attending also were given the oath of office by Judge Monroe.

Man Not Struck, Robbed

Granite City police received a complaint at 2:25 a.m. Saturday from Ray Welshan, 2821 Marshall avenue, that he was struck on the head and robbed of $50 while at a tavern, but an investigation showed that the report was in error. He had fallen and reopened an old head injury, police said. He was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Employee Meetings On Steel Market Trends

Granite City Steel Co. is scheduling a series of meetings to bring employees up-to-date on the competitive challenges as well as opportunities facing the steel industry, and on significant developments in steel technology and design which are helping the industry to meet its challenges.

Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board and president, and other officers of the company will also explain its marketing outlook and discuss ways of improving the efficiency of plant operations.

"Most companies hold regular meetings for their sales personnel so they will be acquainted with trends and conditions that may influence their work," Veeder said. "In today's quality-conscious economy, every employee can benefit from the latest possible information about his company and the industry of which it is a part."

"As an example, each employee who is involved in the operation of a modern steel mill plays a part in shaping the markets for his company's products. The qualities those products must have to win markets depend on his efforts. So do the efficiencies that a successful company must achieve and maintain. The employee in operations has become, in effect, a member of his company's sales or marketing forces."

Cruse Answers Two Letters From Cohan

Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse advised the Press-Record Friday that he had sent a reply to a letter he received last week from Joseph Cohan and a second letter received from Cohan, dated Dec. 27.

Cruse had questioned the assessment percentage of Nameoki township property, stating it was much lower than the 60% recommended by Madison county assessors, and that the differences in valuation would harden property owners when taxing agencies had overlapping jurisdiction, such as the Granite City school district, levee district and county.

In his reply to Cohan, dated Jan. 2, Cruse stated that he had filed the necessary affidavits with the Granite City supervisor's office in 1958 and that they were approved by the clerk and the Granite City council in its capacity as the town board.

"These affidavits," Cruse said, "are filed for all deputy assessors before approval is made of any expenditure of town funds for their salaries."

"You also ask about their oath of office. The oath is given orally by Mr. A. L. Stevens, city clerk, who is also the town clerk. He administers the oath each year before any deputy starts work. This is the procedure in Granite City township."

He plans an $18,000 five-room brick home with a double garage. The brick office building at the front of the lot will be 22x36 feet in size.

Three construction permits were issued last month. City Controller E. J. Miller and Building Inspector Steve Kamen said. Total value was $34,400.

MORE ABOUT Building In QC

June, July and August showed unusual dips though normally they are the top months of the construction season. All four months were below comparable totals for the previous year, but the lag was halted with an upsurge in commercial-industrial activity during the following three months.

During the year repairs and improvements to homes accounted for $438,460 in construction costs, $103,405 went for garages and carports and $78,841 for additions to homes.

Monthly Comparison

A month by month comparison of 1963 figures for those of 1962, listing the 1963 totals first, follows:

January, $152,330 and $108,325; February, $168,850 and $190,765; March, $362,397 and $335,429; April, $730,175 and $283,075; May, $299,861 and $382,202; June, $156,402 and $287,309; July, $144,450 and $131,865; August, $345,695 and $398,867; September, $833,269 and $825,646; October, $501,226 and $438,615; November, $546,800 and $119,918; and a December, $92,900 and $44,945.

Legal Opinion On Spending

Also being awaited since Dec. 16 is a legal interpretation and opinion sought by Alderman Gabrielle Betine on council spending of unbudgeted funds for sidewalk improvements and other items. Sidewalk construction was authorized in the vicinity of four schools at the Dec. 2 session.

An ordinance is to be submitted to prohibit parking on the Benton street curve at Pahlman road and adjacent to the Wilson Park ice skating rink; and at the Dec. 16 meeting the mayor was asked to consider the appointment of a committee of aldermen and citizens to study proposals made by the Bi-State Development Agency.

Still pending are a report requested several weeks ago on the cost of the city's still-unfinished dog pound, and the hiring of a police officer to fill a vacancy in the Dec. 1 retirement of Chief of detectives James R. Lowler. A patrolman is to be hired.

Also still under study last month was an as yet unannounced procedure to call for bids on all materials purchased for the street department. The proposal, prepared by the Street committee, has been given to the Finance committee for study.

The new Judicial Circuit is to submit to the city a resolution requesting the city to maintain a courtroom and a magistrate's office in the city hall. The council several months ago agreed to maintain the courtroom for continued use after the new Judicial Circuit became effective last Jan. 1.

To be submitted for approval are $1000 special police bonds for four watchmen at the General Steel Industries plant for 1964. The watchmen are: Orlie H. Beasley, Robert F. Richard, Everett A. White and William H. Warfield.

$1000 Bond On Charge

P. C. Rodgers, 810 Washington avenue, Madison, pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of driving while his license was suspended. He was released Saturday from the Granite City jail on $1000 property bond to turn for a hearing Wednesday. He was booked in the police station early Friday by state troopers.

Strikes Parked Car

Crowded over by another car, the southbound auto of Kenneth Hubert, 1908 Johnson road, collided with the left rear fender of the parked auto of Marie Whittle, 2062a Edison avenue, in the 2200 block of Madison avenue at 4:35 p.m. Saturday. Hubert listed damage to the right front of his car.

Antonia is the perfect time to auto-explore the photogenic highlands country of West Virginia, now celebrating its Centennial Year. Our Magic Circle tour starts high above the old town of Philippi on the campus of Alderson-Broaddus College, once known as Talbot Hill and site of a skirmish that repulsed the first Civil War land battle, fought by artists and writers in the historic covered bridge that spans the Tygart gully, used by both the Union and Confederacy for troop and supply movements.

First of the "land of glass" towns is Weston, where visitors can watch artisans create delicate hand-blown glassware. On a side road is Jackson's Mill, the home of Gen. Thomas "Stonewall" Jackson, the Confederate hero. Clarksburg pays tribute to Gen. Jackson's famous native son with a handsome equestrian statue in front of the County Court House.

North of Clarksburg are the quality named coal towns, such as Greys, where prosperity is measured in the blackened spires of mining extract on the hillsides. At Fairmont visitors can tour a plant that manufactures artificial bugs of all sizes. Continuing north, the industrial stacks of Morgantown appear, silhouetted against the sky. Pride of the city is the University of West Virginia's Mountaineers, who in fall play big-time football powers.

The route east is through valley countryside endowed with numerous barn roofs bearing the ancient advertisement for Mail Pouch chewing tobacco, and briefly crosses the Maryland border to Jackstone Mountain, highest point in that state. Climax of the trip is Blackwater Falls State Park in Monongahela National Forest, where wooded cataraacts of amber-hued water spill 65 feet into a rugged gorge.

Four hubcaps were taken from the 1964 auto of Charles Ahlring, 2328 Cleveland street, while the car was parked at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues between 1 and 4 a.m. Sunday.

A third siphoned half a tank of gasoline from the auto of Norman Fifeled, 2942 Madison avenue, Sunday evening and today, he notified police at 7:15 a.m. today.

About 12 gallons of gasoline were stolen from the auto of Lewis Waggoner, 2411 Hemlock avenue, while it was parked at home Saturday night, the sheriff's office was notified.

3. Amend the laws creating the Board of Higher Education in such a way as to qualify Illinois to receive federal grants.

4. Dropping his plan to mention action on Senate seats, Gov. Kerner used the following wording in summoning lawmakers to implement the at-large House election.

"To enact laws and to amend or repeal existing laws which will simplify and expedite the nomination and election at large of members of the General Assembly, to appropriate funds for such election, as so required, and to take all other legislative action necessary to provide for such nominations and elections."

Three Court Rollings
Three 5-2 rulings by the supreme court were disclosed by Chief Justice Ray Klingbeil of East Moline after an emergency session in the home of Justice Robert C. Underwood, who is recuperating from minor surgery.

All but the two Democrats on the court, Justices Walter Schaefer of Chicago and Harry Hershey of Taylorville, voted against a suit by Gus Gammie, Chicago lawyer, asking that Senate candidates be ordered to run statewide if House candidates do.

Justice Underwood and Justice Byron House of Nashville were the dissenters in both cases as the court denied a suit by Rep. Fred Branson (R) of Centralia requesting that House candidates be ordered to run in the old districts set up in 1955, and as the court rejected a rehearing motion by Rep. Gae Williams (R) of Murphysboro in his suit challenging the governor's veto of the House redistricting bill passed by the legislature June 28.

The majority opinion was that once the veto had occurred, the constitution required at-large voting.

By tradition, the Illinois House elects all of its members every two years. Half of the senators run in each election for four-year terms; Sen. Paul Simon (D) today has two more years left in his present term.

The Gammie suit was supported by the attorney general, who represented the Democratic members of the state election board—Gov. Kerner, State Auditor Michael Howlett and himself. The two Republican members, Secretary of State Charles Carpenter and Treasurer William J. Scott, disagreed and obtained their own laws.

Canal, Locks Traffic Sets Another Record in 1963

A record year was registered for 1963 at Chain of Rocks Canal Locks 27, with tonnage totaling 29,825,957 despite "deep freezes" which virtually halted river traffic last January and again last month.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, which operates the locks, said the tonnage increase amounted to 1,359,169 over the 1962 total.

Last year, river traffic was heavier, with 45,710 vessels passing through the canal and locks, compared to the 45,528 in 1962. However, due to larger and longer tows, there were fewer lockages—8941 in 1963, compared to 9266 in 1962.

The 1961 totals were 24,714,762 tons of freight, 39,676 vessels and 9266 lockages. In 1960, a total of 22,942,101 tons of freight passed through the canal locks, handled by 35,048 vessels and 7883 lockages.

2328 Private Craft
Of the vessels using the canal and locks last year, 8266 were towboats, with 34,032 barges, and there were 25 passenger boats. 599 U. S. contractor vessels and 2328 private recreational boats. Freezing temperatures in December which caused ice jams in the Mississippi River south of the canal cut the tonnage total for the month to 1,362,755, as compared to the 2,683,870, tons in November.

In December 1962, the tonnage total was 1,865,722.

WINTER WOES by Pison

One day in his car, Joe B. Dew,
(Dead wiper blades streaking his view)

Ran into a bus
And caused a great fuss—
Which cost him some bucks (not a few!)

PREVENT THOSE WINTER DRIVING WOES

The Safe Winter Driving League presents the following tip for better visibility this winter from the National Safety Council: "Be sure your windshield wiper blades are in good, live condition to prevent streaking. Arms should provide at least an ounce of pressure for each inch of blade length to sweep off snow, sleet and road-muck. You must see danger to avoid it."

SOYBEAN PROSPECT BRIGHT

One of the few bright spots in the farm outlook for 1964 is the soybean. The crop is expected to be a profitable crop, assuming reasonably good yields. For the next few weeks we plan to report on various aspects of the agricultural outlook for 1964.

Although the price trend for soybeans is uncertain, a University of Illinois agricultural economist suggests that farmers consider growing a larger acreage in 1964.

Here is how T. A. Hieronymus appraises the soybean situation as we enter 1964:

Soybean supplies are not abundant. A fine time exists between an adequate supply and demand. The final 1963 crop estimate issued Dec. 18 was 701 million bushels. This supply is enough to provide 185 million bushels for export, 470 million for processing and 45 million for seed and stock and still leave a small carryover next Sept. 30.

These amounts are not enough to meet normal market growth. It is doubtful that the price rise since last summer has rationed the current year's crop to the various uses.

It is difficult to forget last year, when supplies appeared much more than adequate. At the season progressed, however, large unexplained disappearances occurred. Actually the 1962 crop was smaller than estimated, and a large portion of it was used before Oct. 1. If this happens again during the 1963 marketing year, supplies will be even shorter than they now look. In the past, soybean shortages have been cured by price increases by late April.

Demand for meal continues much stronger than that for oil. Increasing livestock numbers, more use per animal and large exports will probably keep meal prices strong throughout 1964. Oil is in troublesome surplus. Large inventories have accumulated in the past three years. Firms holding these inventories recently encountered financial difficulties. Most of the inventory therefore came back on the market and caused a sharp November drop in soybean prices.

A slow export demand and the large inventory will probably combine to keep oil prices low during all of 1964 and possibly longer. Surplus oil will be a continuing drag on soybean prices.

The high use and probable low carryover in spite of high 1963 yields indicates a need for a larger acreage in 1964. There is a long-term need to boost soybean production. Farmers could probably raise their 1964 income by shifting land from other
